

| | | |
|--------------------------------------|------------------|-----------------|
| TEST #2 – Year 4 – A | Date: 15.12.2023 | Class: R4.A |
| Name and surname: Filip M. Miklavžič | Points: 57 /80 | Mark: 71% db(3) |

Criteria: 0-49% = nzd(1), 50-64% = zd (2), 65-77% = db (3), 78-89% = pd (4), 90-100% = odl (5)

Make sure your answers are legible. If you make a mistake, cross out the word(s) and write your answer down again.

Please write using a black or blue pen. DO NOT write with a pencil or a red pen. Illegible answers will be marked with zero points.

Read instructions carefully and take the time to think before answering.

Best of luck to all of you! ☺

I. Put the verbs in brackets into the correct tense! Choose the correct form – active or passive – to complete the sentences below. (15 points)

- Last year, over $40 million was spent (spend) on computers worldwide.
- I hurt my back while I was working (work) in the garden.
- When did you realise (you/realise) you had this great talent for numbers?
- The car was stopped (stop) by the police this morning and the driver was fined (fine) for speeding.
- Breakfast is served (serve) at this hotel from 7 to 9 a.m.
- A few hours after the robbery, the thief was captured (capture) by the police.
- I am not going (not go) to the party because I am working (work) on an important project.
- In the past, many types of medicine were discovered (discovered) by accident.
- Who were you talking (you/talk) to when I saw you this morning?
- They didn't hear the news because they were staying (stay) on a desert island.
- I didn't know (not know) you had the same birthday as me!
- This type of food can be eaten (eat) as a starter or as a main dish.
- The new stadium will open (open) next Tuesday.

II. Form ONE new suitable word from the one given in brackets so that the text makes sense. (9 points)

In twenty years' time, which jobs will people still be doing, and which is it reasonable (REASON) to assume will have gone forever? Today's young people should give that question careful consideration (CONSIDER) before choosing a career. Clearly there will continue to be a need for staff in existing (EXIST) professions such as medicine that involve caring for others, and also people able to persuade, like politicians (POLITICS) and lawyers.

There will of course be no shortage (SHORT) of jobs in science and technology, particularly for individuals able to specialise (SPECIAL) in newer fields such as biotechnology and microbiology. On the other hand, the already rapid loss (LOSE) of jobs to robots will speed up even further, as they replace workers not only in manufacturing but also in the construction (CONSTRUCT) industry. And as robots learn how to stack shelves, take over at check-outs or send us our online shopping, it won't be long before most supermarket jobs have disappeared (APPEAR), too.

gambel

gambel

III. Insert ONE new word so that the text makes sense. (10 points) gp

Imagine being transported around the globe in a matter of hours, rather than the 24 hours which is currently required to get from London to Sydney. Such is the promise of the scramjet, a highly experimental type of engine which has been in development over the past couple of decades. In a conventional jet engine, air is sucked into the engine at speeds below the speed of sound, where it is mixed with fuel, ignited, and the exhaust gases provide thrust. In a scramjet, which has to be taken to supersonic speeds by conventional means before it will operate, the air enters at supersonic speeds.

It has been estimated that a scramjet might be capable of travelling at 12-24 times the speed of sound. However, the technology has been found to be extremely difficult to control. Although scientists have had scramjets perform short flights, commercial aircraft are still a long way in the future, and indeed may never be successfully developed.

IV. Rewrite the sentences using the correct form of have something done. (6 points) Op

1. I will ask her to book the tickets for the concert.

I will ask her to have the tickets for the concert booked.

2. They've published Jude's new book.

Jude's new book has been published.

3. The museum is going to recruit an architect to design an extension.

An architect ~~has~~ will be recruited to design an extension for the museum.

V. Complete the sentences to form conditional 0, 1, 2 or 3. (5 points) yp

If you want to be healthy, you should eat better.

If you had listened to my advice, you wouldn't have been caught.

You could buy a much bigger house if you hadn't gambled bought a car.

You should go to the hospital if you aren't feeling well.

If it stops raining in the afternoon, we can go out.

VI. Rewrite the sentences using I wish/if only. (3 points) 2p

1. I didn't spend a lot of time with my grandmother before she passed away.

I wish I spent more time with my grandmother before she passed away.

2. Jennie is always chewing with her mouth open, it's horrendous.

I wish Jennie would stop chewing with her mouth open, it's horrendous.

3. I'm not good at cooking, sadly.

If only I was good at cooking.

VII. Rewrite the sentences using conditional clauses in such a way that the meaning remains the same. (12 points)

- 2 1. Press this button to stop the record player.
The record player will stop if you press this button.
- 1 2. My advice is to talk to her before she leaves.
Before she leaves I advise you to talk to her.
- 1 3. They aren't interested so they didn't join the chess club.
They didn't join the chess club because they aren't interested.
- 1 4. He apologized, so she forgave him.
She forgave him because he apologized.
- 1 5. He didn't start studying earlier so he is panicking about his exam.
He is panicking about his exam because he didn't start studying earlier.
- 2 6. I am very busy, so I won't go with you to the cinema.
I would go to the cinema with you, if I weren't so busy.

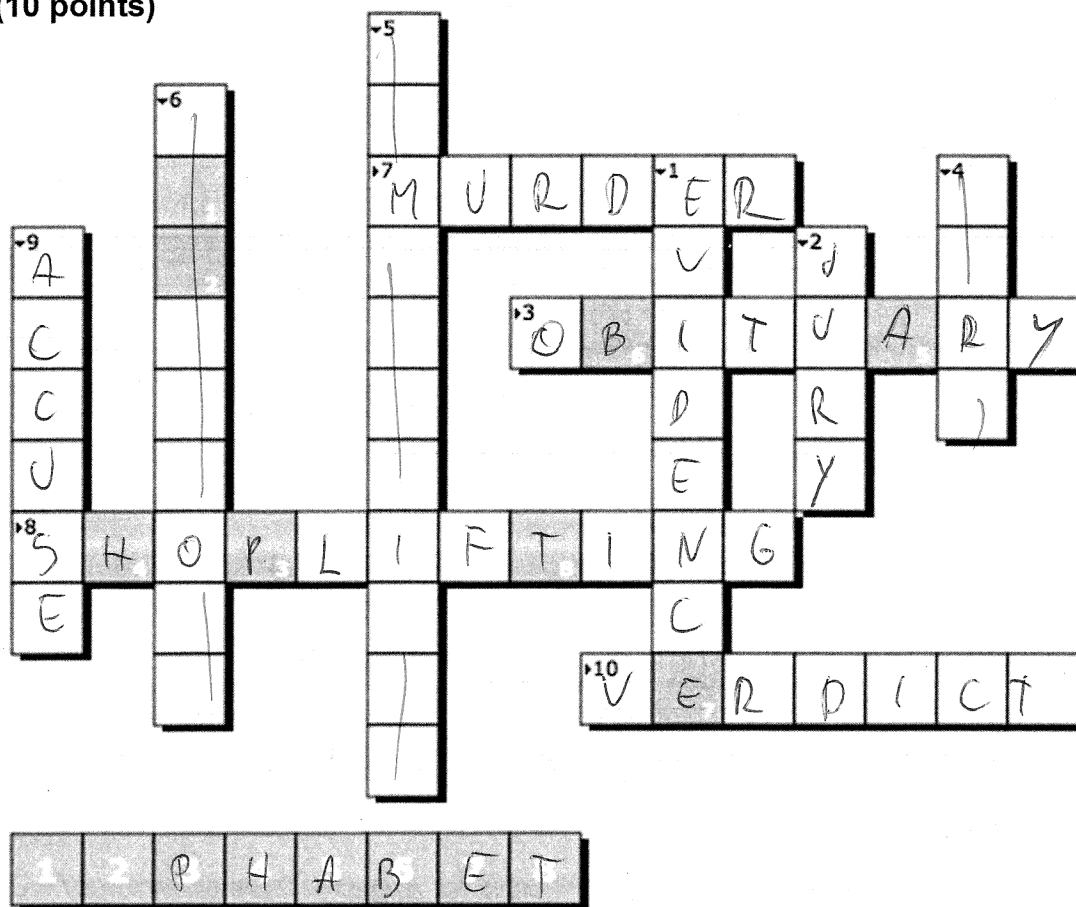

VIII. Fill in the gaps with the correct word. There is only one word missing each time. (10 points)

1. Over the span of his career (which has lasted for decades), Stephen King has often been hailed as one of the most important horror authors ever. He is simply brilliant at creating characters and building scenes. (NOT: stories)
2. I think it's important that everybody take first aid classes. They can literally save a life.
3. I hate to play the devil's advocate here, but I think it's important we consider the other side, no matter how unlikeable. (phrase, 1 point)
4. They called the police almost immediately, but the perp managed to flee the crime scene before the officers showed up.
5. The police are still investigating the kidnapping of a three-year-old little boy. Everyone's really worried because no contact has been made by the one who took him and they're afraid it might be too late to find him.
6. Is Shelly angry with him? Oh, well, he dug his own grave. He should've remembered their anniversary. (phrase, 1 point)
7. They tried to put the fire out, but the storage facility contained lots of highly flammable chemicals, so they could do nothing but watch it burn to the ground in front of their very eyes.

TURN TO NEXT PAGE

evidence

IX. Solve the crossword puzzle. The solution is the name of Google's parent company.
(10 points)

1. the facts, signs or objects that make you believe that something is true or prove something
2. a group of people in court who decide whether someone is guilty or not
3. a text about someone printed in a newspaper after they die
4. to seduce, persuade someone by offering them a reward
5. exposed to danger
6. deliberately harmful
7. the crime of taking someone's life intentionally
8. stealing goods from a store or smaller venue
9. to say that somebody has done something wrong or is guilty of something
10. a final, official judgement in court